

Introduction:

In a groundbreaking move that is set to redefine the Ambulatory Cardiac Monitoring landscape, ZBeats officially announces its establishment, bringing a fresh wave of innovation, passion, and dedication. This news marks the beginning of a journey that promises to leave an indelible mark on the Cardiac Monitoring sector.

The Vision:

ZBeats was born out of a vision to leverage the next generation of AI/ML technologies to enable proactive cardiac care to a broader patient population globally. Our founders, Dr. Bin Fang and Dr. Peng Zhang, envisioned a future where AI/ML-Enabled Medical Devices are not just about products but about how machine is able to self-learn the precious Human Intelligence in a smarter and more efficient way. With this passion, they set out to create a company that marries cutting-edge technology with a commitment to provide their customers with a cardiac monitoring solution which can evolve quickly and constantly provide high ROI.

Founding Team's Perspective:

Dr. Fang, the driving force behind ZBeats, expressed their excitement about this significant milestone. "We believe that ZBeats has the potential to make the dream come true. Our journey is just beginning, and we are eager to contribute to the evolution of Ambulatory Cardiac Monitoring through innovation and excellence."

Join Us on the Journey:

As we celebrate our establishment, we invite you to join us on this exciting journey. Follow our progress, stay tuned for updates, and witness firsthand the transformation that ZBeats is bringing to the Ambulatory Cardiac Monitoring landscape.

Conclusion:

ZBeats is not just a company; it's a vision, a commitment, and a promise to elevate the standards of care. Today marks the dawn of a new era, and we are ready to lead the way.
