ZBeats Secures NIH Sponsorship to Showcase Innovative Healthcare Solutions at VIVE Conference

Nashville, March 26, 2023 — ZBeats, a trailblazing healthcare technology company, is proud to announce its sponsorship by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to exhibit at the highly anticipated VIVE Conference, scheduled to take place from March 26th, 2023, in Nashville, TN.

As an SBIR awardee and a recipient of NIH support, ZBeats will feature its cutting-edge ambulatory cardiac monitoring solutions that leverage advanced technology to enhance patient care, diagnosis, and treatment. The VIVE Conference serves as an ideal platform for ZBeats to unveil its innovative products and share insights into the future of healthcare technology.

"We are honored to have the backing of the National Institutes of Health as we showcase our transformative healthcare solutions at the VIVE Conference," said Dr. Bin Fang, CEO & Co-Founder of ZBeats. "This sponsorship reflects the recognition of our commitment to advancing healthcare through technology, and we are excited to engage with the healthcare community, industry leaders, and stakeholders at the conference."

Key Highlights of ZBeats' Participation at the VIVE Conference with NIH Sponsorship

Innovative Healthcare Solutions

ZBeats will demonstrate its latest technologies, including ZBPro, the SaMD for analysis and scanning, as well as the beta-prototype ZBPatch, designed to address challenges in ambulatory cardiac monitoring.

NIH-Funded Research Insights

ZBeats will share insights into NIH-funded research projects that have contributed to the development of its groundbreaking healthcare solutions.

Interactive Exhibits

Attendees will have the opportunity to engage with interactive exhibits, demonstrations, and discussions led by ZBeats representatives, providing a hands-on experience of the company's innovative offerings.

Collaborative Opportunities

ZBeats looks forward to exploring collaboration opportunities and partnerships with healthcare professionals, researchers, and organizations interested in advancing healthcare technology.
